

Chapter 1. Student Orientation

---

Subchapter 1–100. General Provisions

Sec. 1–101. Purpose and Application

- a. Student orientation programs are designed to initiate the integration of newly admitted first-year and transfer undergraduate students into the academic and social climate of the University.
- b. The primary purpose of a University orientation program is to help new undergraduates understand the nature of the University, the educational opportunities available to them, the values and functions of the University community, and the central objective of the University as an academic enterprise. It also permits students to participate in academic advising and to learn about matters relating to student registration, housing, campus activities, and other aspects of University life.

Sec. 1–102. Definitions

In this chapter, unless the context requires a different meaning,

1. “director” means director of New Student Services;
2. “student” means a person enrolled in residence at the University or a person accepted for admission or readmission to the University while that person is on the campus;
3. “University” means The University of Texas at Austin; and,
4. “vice president of student affairs” means the vice president of student affairs or the vice president of student affairs’ delegate or representative.

Subchapter 1–200. Administration of Orientation

Sec. 1–201. Duties of Director

The director, in direct coordination with the Offices of the Provost and Vice President for Student Affairs, shall actively guide, plan, implement, and evaluate the programs and services designed to introduce incoming students to the University. In carrying out their responsibilities, the director is administratively responsible to and will report to the vice president of student affairs.

Subchapter 1–300. Student Conduct

Sec. 1–301. Rules and Regulations Applicable to Student Conduct

Prospective students attending an orientation program are subject to the rules and regulations governing student discipline and conduct set out in chapter 11 of the Institutional Rules.
