

Academic Policies and Procedures

Repetition of a Course

Students in the College of Liberal Arts may not repeat any course in which they have earned a grade of C- or better.

Honors

University-wide honors are described in University Honors and in the General Information Catalog. In addition, the College of Liberal Arts provides recognition through the Dean's Honor List and the Plan I Honors Programs. Students may also graduate with departmental honors and earn membership in one or more of the honorary scholastic societies open to undergraduates.

Dean's Honor List

The Dean's Honor List, prepared at the end of each long-session semester, gives official recognition and commendation to students whose grades for the semester indicate distinguished academic accomplishment. Both the quality and the quantity of work done are considered; a grade of F in any course makes the student ineligible, regardless of other grades.

The Honor List is divided into five groups; according to the number of grade points they earn, students are listed under one of the following classifications:

- Summa cum Laude (67 or more grade points)
- Cum Laude Ampli et Magna (61–66 grade points)
- Magna cum Laude (58–60 grade points)
- Ampli cum Laude (55–57 grade points)
- Cum Laude (52–54 grade points)

Liberal Arts Honors Programs, Plan I

Liberal Arts Honors Programs coordinates the various honors opportunities available to students in The College of Liberal Arts (excluding Plan II): the Liberal Arts Honors Scholars Program, Liberal Arts Honors Upper Division (College Honors), the Humanities Honors Program, and departmental honors programs. This array of choices is designed for students who seek flexibility and choice in their honors work and for those who want to pursue an honors degree in a particular discipline.

The Liberal Arts Honors Scholars Program gives entering first year admitted students access to honors sections of lower-division introductory courses. Each student admitted to the program is required to take an active part in three courses in the first year: Liberal Arts Honors 102H, The Idea of the Liberal Arts, Liberal Arts Honors 104H, Professionalization and Career Development, and one designated honors writing course. Additionally, each student admitted to the program is required to take an active part in two courses in the second year: Liberal Arts Honors 112H, The Nature of Inquiry and Liberal Arts Honors 103H, The Ideas of Civic Engagement. The program serves as a preparation for departmental honors programs and for the Liberal Arts Honors Upper Division (College Honors). Students must apply to the Liberal Arts Honors Scholars Program when they apply to the University. Admission decisions are based on the applicant's demonstrated commitment to the liberal arts, test scores, high school records, resume, and an application essay.

The upper-division Liberal Arts Honors Program offers challenging and intensive interdisciplinary courses taught by distinguished faculty members. Students who have completed at least 60 semester hours of coursework and have earned a University grade point average of at least 3.50 are eligible to enroll in these courses. There is no application process.

The requirements for graduation with liberal arts honors are

- a. Graduation from the College of Liberal Arts with any degree other than the Bachelor of Arts, Plan II
- b. A University grade point average of at least 3.50 at graduation
- c. Completion of at least three upper-division liberal arts honors (LAH) courses with at least a grade of A- in two of the courses and a grade of at least B in the third
- d. Completion in residence at the University of at least 60 semester hours of coursework counted toward the degree

The statement "Liberal Arts Honors" appears on the academic record of each graduate who fulfills these requirements. The student may earn both liberal arts honors and special honors in his or her major department.

Departmental Honors Programs

Most departments in the College of Liberal Arts offer honors programs to their majors. Minimum requirements for departmental honors are

- a. A University grade point average of at least 3.00
- b. A three-semester-hour thesis or research project, or a reasonable equivalent, with a grade of at least B
- c. Completion, with a grade point average of at least 3.50, of the coursework required for a major in the field
- d. Completion in residence at the University of at least 60 semester hours of coursework counted toward the degree

Each department may establish additional or more rigorous requirements. Thesis coursework in one department's honors program may not be applied toward the requirements of an interdisciplinary program.

The statement "Special Honors in (name of field)" appears on the transcript of each graduate certified as having completed the honors program.
